

About the Event

About the event

The Simplyhealth Great Edinburgh Winter Run is the perfect way to kick-start 2017 when thousands of runners and spectators descend on Scotland's capital city.

The weekend of sport takes place on Saturday 7 January, starting with 3,000 runners making their way around the scenic 5km event in Holyrood Park, which has reached capacity.

Then budding athletes between 7-14 years old will line up for the Simplyhealth Junior Great Edinburgh Winter Run, where youngsters take on the 2.5km course.

The entertainment then continues as some of Europe's best athletes including Mo Farah and Laura Muir take to the hills and mud at the Simplyhealth Great Edinburgh International XCountry.

The Simplyhealth Great Edinburgh International XCountry is free to spectate and will be shown live on BBC One from 13.15, including highlights of the Simplyhealth Great Edinburgh Winter Run and the Simplyhealth Junior Great Edinburgh Winter Run.

Media Facilities

The media centre is located next to the start and finish areas, just off Queen's Drive in Holyrood Park. You must show your pass to gain access to these facilities, where there will be free wi-fi available.

Please note: Media facilities will close at 6pm sharp.
